JOB ANNOUNCEMENT – TEMPORARY PROJECT COORDINATOR

Future of California Elections (FoCE), a project of Community Partners, seeks a temporary full-time Project Coordinator. This staff position is responsible for administration and program support of all the activities of the FoCE collaboration, a coalition of election officials, civil rights organizations and reform advocates dedicated to an open, transparent and well-functioning system of democracy in California.

About FoCE

Future of California Elections was formed in late 2011 to examine and address the unique challenges facing the State of California's election system. California is home to the largest and most diverse electorate in the nation. In many ways, California has been a national leader in regard to elections, including implementing online voter registration and providing election information such as sample ballots to all voters. And yet, the state still has far to go; California ranks near the bottom nationwide in the percentage of eligible citizens actually registered to vote, and current practices yield a voting population that does not mirror that of the state as a whole.

The FoCE network works to modernize elections and expand participation throughout California. Its members represent the public servants charged with managing the process, groups representing a diverse spectrum of California voters and advocates dedicated to an open, transparent and well-functioning system of democracy in California.
