Impact

The world is a better place because
FOCE happened.

The key method

Understanding users' needs through qualitative research like usability testing

Usability testing is simple

Something to test

Someone to test it

Somewhere to meet and talk

What to watch for

Questions asked

Comments

Emotions and body language

What to do

Moderators: skim through the script, and when the participant is ready, use it to conduct the session

Participants: use the instructions to make the origami shape

How'd that go?

What was it like to be a participant?

What happened?

Language.

It's not enough to just use short words.

They have to be meaningful words to help people take the right action.

California Bill of Rights

VOTER BILL OF RIGHTS

YOU HAVE THE FOLLOWING RIGHTS:

- ★ The right to vote if you are eligible to vote.
 - a U.S. citizen living in California

Best Practices Manual for Official Voter Information Guides Released

February 25, 2015

In the November 2014 election, only 31% of eligible Californians voted and young people and people of color continued to be underrepresented. Although many factors contribute to low voter turnout, we believe that voter information is an important tool to engage and expand the electorate.

To help make voter information more effective, more inviting, and more useful, we have released our Best Practices Manual for Official Voter Information Guides. This manual was specifically developed as an easy-to-use resource for election officials and community groups working to enfranchise and educate California voters.

Who is on the ballot for this election?

In the November General Election, all voters receive the same ballot, no matter what political party you are registered with, or if you have no party preference. The address where you are registered to vote determines which contests are on your ballot.

In the June Primary Election, all Californians were able to vote to decide which candidates for federal and state offices moved on to the November General Election. Candidates for local county offices in June received enough votes to be elected without having to be in a run-off in November.

This error message indicates something is wrong with the connection between the eSlate and the eVOT printer.

1. Make sure that the power strip is plugged into a wall outlet
2. See that the red button on the power strip is flipped to "ON"
3. Test if the power strip is working by plugging in another electrical item, such as the cell phone and charger
4. Check that each black power adapter is plugged in to the power strip
5. Make sure the black power cord is snugly connected in the black power adapter
6. Check that the black power adapter is plugged into the top of the printer.
7. Make sure that the eSlate is seated properly in the e Booth.
8. If these steps do not resolve the issue, close the lid to the e Booth
9. If you need assistance you will need to effectively overrule the flag; report into the Vote Center Coordinator.

Where should I register and vote after the deadline?

During the 14 days up to and including Election Day, you must go to an official Elections Office or designated location to register and vote.

If you:	You can go to:	How you vote:
Registered to vote before the 15-day deadline (Mar 21, 2018)	Any early voting location or Your polling place	Vote a regular ballot
Are not registered to vote	Your county elections office or designated location	Complete a voter registration form Vote a CVR provisional ballot
Are registered in another county	Your county elections office (or designated location) where you now live	Complete a voter registration form Vote a CVR provisional ballot
Have moved within the county where you are registered to vote	The polling place for your new address or your county elections office	Complete a voter registration form Vote a provisional ballot

Missed the voter registration deadline?

You can still register and vote on the same day!

Go to your county Elections Office- up to and including Election Day.

It's 3 simple steps you can complete in 1 visit.

1. You register to vote.
2. You vote.
3. You seal your ballot in a special envelope and sign it.

This is called Conditional Voter Registration (CVR) or Same Day Registration.

You got this notice because you voted using a pink Provisional Ballot envelope. This was because:

- You already received a vote-by mail envelope and the provisional ballot is a second ballot.
- OR
- You are a new voter in Santa Cruz County and did not have the right identification.

We need time to find out if you are eligible to vote and if we can count your ballot.

How do I find out if my ballot counted?

Contact the Santa Cruz elections office in the week following the election. We can tell you if your ballot was counted or answer any questions

You will have to provide your full name and birth date.

What happens next?

If you are not registered to vote in Santa Cruz County, we will send you a voter registration card. To vote in future elections, complete and return this card, or register online at <http://registertovote.ca.gov>

What is the law about provisional ballots?

The federal Help America Vote Act gives you the right to cast a provisional ballot and find out if it was counted (and if not, why).

The California Elections Code section 14310(c) says that provisional ballots are counted only if:

- Election officials determine that you have the right to vote the ballot.
- A superior court orders the ballot to count.

You may seek a court order that your ballot is counted. You must do this before the official canvass period ends – within 28 days after the election. The court will prioritize your request over other civil matters.

Everyone over here was very impressed with these materials, and we'd be pleased to use the templates for our SB450 training material. The clean look, easy organization, and ability to quickly get information were all elements we were pleased with.

Role based checklists for election workers on election day

A tool to help election workers know what to do and when.

The checklist templates take election workers through an election from start to finish. Broken down into each part of the day, election workers can know what they need to do and when. Each worker has their own checklist.

Adapt templates to fit the needs of your polling place or vote center.

These checklists can be bound with rings, spiral bindings, or attached to a lanyard. Quick access is key.

Role based checklists for election workers on election day

A tool to help election workers know what to do and when.

The checklist templates take election workers through an election from start to finish. Broken down into each part of the day, election workers can know what they need to do and when. Each worker has their own checklist.

Adapt templates to fit the needs of your polling place or vote center.

These checklists can be bound with rings, spiral bindings, or attached to a lanyard. Quick access is key.
